Thanks to our fellow-citizens and patrons who so kindly aided us in moving our press and material into our new rooms. Come and see us now, gentlemen, we are fixed up.

H. D. Shepard and Milo Rowel, two of Burlington's prominent business men, have been doing Wichita the past week. Burlington has, by a large majority of the people of Osage county, been declared the county seat, and our friends were feeling jubilant.

A dispute arose between two herdsmen on Cow skin, on Saturday, and a fight ensued. One of them seized a gun and shot the other, killing him instantly. The murderer gave himself up to the authorities, but as no one appeared against him he was allowed to go free.

A jail delivery occurred at the one-horse calaboose, in this place, on Tuesday evening, whereby one supposed horse-thief and one sneak-thief gained that boon which is set down by the declaration of independence as one of the inalienable things. We must have a better lock-up.

The Eagle block has become one of the prominent landmarks of our city, a kind of metropolitan center, as it were, around and about which much will revolve affecting the future weal of the queen city. Of the carpenters who have so successfully completed its fair and imposing outline we want just a word.

The work itself falls in advertising Messrs. Steele & Smith, who, by their expert and judicious serving commendation should not be withheld for all that. The building is 80x30 feet on the ground, containing seven large rooms, our office, which is 50x24, and public hall 40x24.

The ground floor has four large business rooms, 22x30 feet each. All these rooms have been finished up in the best possible style by Messrs. Reese & Sawyer.

The windows are arched, and the shafts, doorways, in fact, every piece of wood work in the building, shows the traces of master mechanics, and we congratulate them upon their success.

Fitzgerald, Wickery & Sweet had the contract for plastering, and they also have done a splendid job. Arrangements have been made for painting, and is doing a very creditable job.

The enterprising and well-known real estate firm of Steele & Smith appear in a new and enlarged advertisement this week. The business of this firm has grown to be second in importance to no other firm in the state of Kansas. Reliable, trustworthy, never misrepresenting, their patrons and business are increasing and expanding in a wonderful degree.

Their sales for home parties and investments made for eastern capitalists amount to many thousands of dollars every month. This week they publish a partial list of lands in their hands for sale. We take pleasure in recommending the firm to parties who either desire to buy or sell landed property.

The real estate firm of Martin, Phillip & Co. report the sale of real estate good. Among the latest sales made were some parties from Illinois, who were sent out to look up a location for a colony; they being so well pleased with our county and city, purchased one house and lot, contracted for another, also four quarter-sections of land. They have gone for their families, and will bring out a number of the colonists with them on their return, that will invest largely. Also some parties from the south have been negotiating with the same firm for lands suitable for raising cotton and tobacco.

The instruments for the land have arrived, coming of ten horns, a piece, base and tenor drums and symbols, at a cost of about four hundred and twenty dollars. The boys have employed a teacher for a short time, and are going to work in earnest. Seven of the members are old players, so that we will have good music in a short time, and as they are needing more money to pay a teacher and procure music, let us all respond cheerfully when called on. Hurry up, boys, and get ready for their excursion to the state fair, and that other little excursion up in Missouri.

The regular anniversary meeting of the American bible society for this county was held last Saturday evening at the Presbyterian church. A large audience was in attendance, and was addressed by the society agent. A collection was taken amounting to about seventy dollars. Officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: President, W. B. Smith; vice presidents, the ministers, of the different societies; secretary, Mr. Sturges; treasurer and librarian, Mr. Kramer.

The room on the corner in the Eagle block, being fitted up for the Wichita savings bank, is approaching completion, and that institution will have possession in a few days. It is a very large vault, with hollow wall, and foundation entering several feet into the ground, has been built. The vault is tied with heavy iron rods, will hold two safes and any amount of papers, and is considered entirely fire proof. Kohn and Hide are highly pleased with their location.

Hon. Martin V. Voss, judge of the 4th judicial district, ex-state senator, etc., one of the soundest men and best lawyers in Kansas, was in Wichita this week. Because of failing health he is "roughing it" traveling around the country in a wagon and camping out. He finds this life more beneficial than Rocky mountain life which he has been trying all summer. Judge Voss stopped with Hon. J. R. Meade while in town. He went west on a buffalo hunt.

The attention of business men and proprietors of Wichita is respectfully directed to the first article on the second page of this issue, entitled, "Vale in pass, Fidelity." We ask for a careful consideration. One good paper in Wichita will not prove a burden, while two must. If we are to have but one paper we would feel warranted in putting in a power press and enlarging this fall, which would be an important matter to our merchants.

Fifty-eight car loads of cattle were shipped from Wichita on Monday last, and sixty on yesterday, two of the largest shipments made this year. Next week we shall give the entire shipments for the month. The ruling prices are a shade higher than on last week's quotations, both for stock cattle and beefves. One tickled of large beefves went off at $27 per head. The average price of beefves is from $18 to $22 per head.

The public schools of Wichita will open next Monday, the rules governing which are published elsewhere. It is the desire of the board that all children who are to attend during the fall term may be sent the first week. Prof. Geo. Tucker is the principal, Helen M. Fees, assistant, and Mrs. Louisa Tucker teacher of the primary department. One other teacher will be employed. Recollect next Monday morning.

G. M. Richards, a citizen of Wichita, has completed arrangements with the managers of the A., T. & S. F. R. R. and eastern lines upon a meeting with it, for a series of cheap excursions and buffalo hunts to and in Western Kansas. Mr. Richards conducted successfully a series of like excursions a year or two since, over the Kansas Pacific. We hope to see some of those parties in Wichita.

S. Drake, Philip Ogden, C. H. Stewart and D. J. Lobdell, were brought before U. S. commissioner Sines on a charge of retailing liquors and tobacco without license. The parties waived examination, and gave bail for their appearance before the U. S. district court in Topeka, in October next.

Not a shanty, but a good, substantial, two-story business house is up and being rapidly enclosed, on Main street, just south of the Wichita bank, by Geo. Salsbury, one of our attorneys. He has several applications already to rent it. A part of the upper story he will use for his own office.

We caught a glimpse of the plans and front elevation of J. H. Dagner's new residence the other day. We had not even heard that he intended to build a new and permanent residence until we saw the plans and specifications in the hands of a mechanic who was figuring up the probable cost. It will be one of the most tasty affairs yet attempted in Wichita in a way of residence.

A correspondent from Wichita to the Commonwealth, says that the delegates elect for this county are in favor of S. M. Strickler, and that the county convention will send Strickler delegates. The communication is signed X. Y. We, for one, would like to know X. Y.'s source of information; it would be invaluable to an editor.
